

BEAUTY SPURNED HIM AND DRAGGED HIS LOVE TO COURT

There Magistrate Doesn't
Heed His Plea Any More
Than the Girl.

A student of the Corse Paxton school of acting is Napoleon Stepanian, twenty years old, who was arraigned in Morrisania Police Court to-day on a charge of disorderly conduct. The complainant was May Epstein, eighteen years old, of No. 165 Southern Boulevard, Stepanian's cousin, and a beautiful girl. Stepanian lives at No. 302 East Thirteenth street. He has been annoying his pretty cousin by his attentions for six months. Yesterday his conduct was such that the girl had him summoned to court.

"May it please the Court," said Stepanian, "I dearly love you maid. Don't you like my girl?" he asked turning to Miss Epstein.

"I do not," she replied with a toss of her head.

"But you loved me once," persisted Stepanian. "I have the letters to prove it."

"I loved you always as a cousin," explained Miss Epstein.

Stepanian did recite a long oration to Magistrate O'Connor dealing with his all consuming love for his fair cousin. He maintained that he had loved often in his twenty years of life, but never had he really loved before.

"To stifle me love," he said, "I went far away to Brookton, Mass.—but I could not remain away from her."

Stepanian will remain away from her for the next six months or forever a $200 bond which I shall require from you as security that you will keep the peace."

Stepanian hadn't secured a bondsman this afternoon, but he was hopeful.

GUESTS OF RICH WIDOW ROBBED AS THEY SLEPT

Mr. Wager's Trousers Stolen,
He Had to Stay Abed—
Lady's Watch Gone, Too.

Although the police policy of secrecy regarding burglaries and holdups is rigidly observed in the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street precinct, it is known that among a numerous band of burglars working in that part of Harlem one makes a specialty of stealing clothing from bedrooms and stealing them at his leisure has gone through the district like a collector for an installment furniture house. His latest robbery was committed Saturday night in the Port Royal Apartments at No. 26 West One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street.

This house is owned by Mrs. Rose Haberman, a wealthy widow who occupies a suite on the third floor. Saturday night she had a card party and among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wager of Balston Spa, N. Y. Mr. Wager is a representative of the Tower Manufacturing Company.

At the close of the party break-up and Mr. and Mrs. Wager were persuaded to remain all night at the Haberman apartment instead of going to their hotel downtown. They were given a room opening on a fire escape landing. While Mr. Wager and his wife slept the thief entered their room by way of the fire-escape and annexed Mr. Wager's trousers. He also visited Mrs. Haberman's room and stole her gold watch.

When Mr. Wager awoke yesterday morning and was unable to find his trousers there was a great ado in the Haberman household. In the midst of the excitement Mrs. Haberman discovered that her watch had been stolen. Mr. Wager had to stay over night finally his trousers were found in the cellar. The thief had secured from them $2 in cash, a mileage book and a gold watch and fob.

REMARKABLE SWORN STATEMENT OF A NEW BRUNSWICK DRUGGIST.

Have sold your Swamp Root for twenty-eight years and have known its valuable curative qualities for the past twenty years. For kidney, liver and bladder troubles I have never known a single case where it has failed to relieve and cure. Right in my own household Swamp Root cured my wife of catarrh of the bladder, while it cured me of liver and bladder troubles.

Numerous cases have come under my personal observation, which has made me very enthusiastic about recommending Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root to any one suffering from kidney, liver and bladder trouble, and I have the greatest confidence in its merits. Have never heard any customer who has given Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root a trial speak of it but in the highest terms.

Yours respectfully,
JOSEPH F. BRADLEY, Druggist,
178 Hamilton St., New Brunswick, N. J.
